WAR CLOUD SEEN IN WALL STREET

New York, Oct. 9.—The war cloud over lst preferred 2d preferred . eastern Europe was the principal topic of consideration and influence today, al-though the center of the resulting dis-Gt. Nor. pfd. turbance in the security markets shifted St. Nor. Ore ctfs 1,300 somewhat. The effect in New York was Inter. - Met. 500 modified to some extent by counter facors. Yesterday's heavy selling here of Inter. Paper American securities seemed to be but the Inter. Pump passing along of orders received from con- lowa Central tinental sources, and the English capital K. C. Southern . itself was relatively little disturbed so far as its own money markets and government securities were concerned. Today's conditions in the London market were described in private cables received in Wall street as almost panicky. Foreign exchanges all turned strongly in favor of London, the movement being most marked here, but notably also at Berlin and Paris. The price of British consols was down a full point at one time during the day, and other government securities in London. full point at one time during the day, and other government securities in London were acutely depressed. The Liverpool wheat market also was greatly perturbed. The mobilization of the British fleet in the Mediterranean was the direct cause the Mediterranean was the direct cause People's Gas the Mediterranean was the direct cause of this awakening of apprehension in London itself, that movement seeming to threaten the immediate entry of Great Britan into the field of warlike preparation. The direct effect on the New York market was much the same as yesterday, Reading Steel 300 market was much the same as yesterday, Reading Repub. Steel and estimates of the number of shares sold for foreign account ran close to those of yesterday. The response was even frore pronounced in the foreign exchange of St. L. & San F. market than in the stock market. The tone of sterling exchange was called demoralized; so much so that bankers were disinclined to undertake any drawings in view of the seeming imminence of gold The bareness of the supply of bills was responsible as well as the strength of the demand for the disorderly movement of exchange. Demand sterling rose at one time 50 points over the close yesterday, and remittances by cable were about as

The recovery was helped by the strength of Rock Island and the Harriman issues, which was due to the significance at-tached to the announcement of provision for the $7,000,000 St. Louis & San Francisco notes maturing on Dec. 1. A favorable effect on sentiment was to be expected from this relief from threatened embarrassment of an extended railroad system, especially with the assurance im-plied that next year's heavy note obligations of the same systetm, amounting to over $22,000,000, would be similarly taken care of in due course. Good prospects for a permanent refunding of this indebtedness was inferred from this development. But the speculative element rushed to far wider implications from the fact that the provision for these notes was annourced by the bankers who finance all the important Hariman financing and not by the firm closest to the Rock Island management. A new direction for Mr. Harriman's supposed complex projects was thus indicated to the speculative con-

This accounted for the prominence of Union Pacific, Erie, Missouri Pacific and such properties as Mr. Harriman has been such properties as Mr. Hartman has been credited with designing for his helpful ministrations. As the money market remained tranquil no attention was paid to the estimates of a cash outgo for the week of over $3,000,000. Not only in the stock market, but also in foreign ex-change, in British consols and in wheat there was reaction from the day's most violent excitement. Final prices of stocks, in fact, show little change from those of GRAIN AND PROVISIONS. Chicago, Oct. 9.-The wheat market pened excited and strong with prices %@%c higher than the previous close. The unsettled political situation in Europe had aroused intense bullish enthusiasm among local wheat traders and demand for that cereal at the opening was extremely active. Within the first few minutes the December delivery had advanced to $1.01% and the May option to $1.04%, after opening at $1.01 to $1.01½ and $1.03% at $1.01 to $1.01½ and $1.03%. to $1.04%, respectively. A decline in the price of British consols and higher prices for wheat at Liverpool added to the fears of a possible European war. At the same time the market was bullishly affected by the continued drought in the American Milwaukee. southwest and in other sections of the winter belt. During the first hour trading was of a boisterous character but at St. Paul the end of that time a lull came in the Buffalo buying and with enormous realizing sales prices gradually eased off until they were below the opening quotations. The market, however, exhibited no signs of weakness, being buoyed up by the urgent demand for flour and cash wheat in the northwest. Trade during the last hour was comparatively quiet and the market closed firm, with December at $1.00%@1.01 and May at $1.03%.

Trade in corn was rather limited in vol-umn. During the first half of the ses-sion a firm tone prevailed owing to the strength of wheat. Several locals, longs were fair buyers several locals, longs were fair buyers and this caused moderate covering by shorts. Following the decline in wheat the corn market became easy. The close was at the lowest point of the day.

Oats were firm early in the day, but weakened during the last half and closed at the lowest point. Cash oats at the at the lowest point. Cash oats at the sample tables closed steady after ranging half higher early in the day. The mar-ket was influenced chiefly by wheat and Grand Rapids

Provisions were steady at the start, but eased off owing to the weakness of corn, and to selling by a local packer. At the close prices were a shade to 121/2c lower. The leading futures ranged as follows: 11.01%

HEALTHY UNDERTONE.

Improvement in Trade Conditions Noted by Bradstreet's. New York, Oct. 9.-Bradstreet's tomor row will say: Although trade reports are somewhat irregular in character, owing largely to varying weather conditions in different sections of the country and uncertainties caused by impending elections, the general undertone is toward sustained improvement. Country trade has been comparatively quiet, because the farmers have been taking advantage of the ideal weather to complete their harvesting. However, the heavy marketing of crops has made for an increased railway ton-nage and improved collections consider-ably, while exports of wheat are heavy. Iron and steel are quiet, impending elec-tions being a deterrent influence, but production is increasing in anticipation of forthcoming good business, and there is more doing in other industrial lines. There is less industrial idleness, and in so instances business is developing for the first quarter of 1909, and especially in
